2	5. Der Wolf und die sieben jungen Geißlein.	5. The Wolf and the Seven Young Goats.	5. THE WOLF AND THE SEVEN LITTLE KIDS.
3	Es war einmal eine alte Geiß, die hatte sieben junge Geißlein, und hatte sie lieb, wie eine Mutter ihre Kinder lieb hat.	Once upon a time there was an old goat who had seven young kids and loved them as a mother loves her children.	There was once an old goat who had seven little kids, and loved them with all the love of a mother for her children.
4	Eines Tages wollte sie in den Wald gehen und Futter holen, da rief sie alle sieben herbei und sprach:	One day she wanted to go into the forest and fetch food, so she called all seven and said:	One day she wanted to go into the forest and fetch some food, so she called all seven to her and said:
5	»Liebe Kinder, ich will hinaus in den Wald, seid auf eurer Hut vor dem Wolf; wenn er hereinkommt, so frißt er euch alle mit Haut und Haar.	Dear children, I want to go out into the forest. Be on your guard against the wolf; if he comes in, he will devour you all, skin and hair.	'Dear children, I have to go into the forest, be on your guard against the wolf; if he comes in, he will devour you all — skin, hair, and all.
6	Der Bösewicht verstellt sich oft, aber an seiner rauhen Stimme und an seinen schwarzen Füßen werdet ihr ihn gleich erkennen.«	The villain often disguises himself, but you'll recognize him immediately by his rough voice and his black feet."	The wretch often disguises himself, but you will know him at once by his rough voice and his black feet.'
7	Die Geißlein sagten: »Liebe Mutter, wir wollen uns schon in acht nehmen, Ihr könnt ohne Sorge fortgehen.«	The kids said, "Dear mother, we'll be careful, you can go without worry."	The kids said, 'Dear mother, we will take good care of ourselves; you may go away without any anxiety.'
8	Da meckerte die Alte und machte sich getrost auf den Weg.	Then the old woman grumbled and confidently set off.	Then the old one bleated, and went on her way with an easy mind.
9	Es dauerte nicht lange, so klopfte jemand an die Haustür und rief: »macht auf, ihr lieben Kinder, eure Mutter ist da und hat jedem von euch etwas mitgebracht.«	It wasn't long before someone knocked on the front door and called out: "Open up, dear children, your mother is here and has brought something for each of you."	It was not long before someone knocked at the house-door and cried, 'Open the door, dear children; your mother is here, and has brought something back with her for each of you.'
10	Aber die Geißlein hörten an der rauhen Stimme, daß es der Wolf war.	But the little goats heard from the rough voice that it was the wolf.	But the little kids knew that it was the wolf, by the rough voice.
11	»Wir machen nicht auf,« riefen sie, »du bist nicht unsere Mutter, die hat eine feine und liebliche Stimme, aber deine Stimme ist rau; du bist der Wolf!«	We won't open the door, they cried. "You are not our mother; she has a soft and sweet voice, but your voice is rough; you are the wolf!"	'We will not open the door,' they cried, 'you are not our mother. She has a soft, pleasant voice, but your voice is rough; you are the wolf!'
12	Da ging der Wolf zu einem Krämer und kaufte sich ein großes Stück Kreide, das aß er, und machte seine Stimme fein.	Then the wolf went to a shopkeeper and bought himself a large piece of chalk, which he ate, and made his voice soft.	Then the wolf went away to a shopkeeper and bought himself a great lump of chalk, ate this and made his voice soft with it.
13	Dann kam er wieder zurück, klopfte an die Haustür und rief: »macht auf, ihr lieben Kinder, eure Mutter ist da und hat jedem von euch etwas mitgebracht.«	Then he came back, knocked on the front door, and called out: "Open up, dear children, your mother is here and has brought something for each of you."	Then he came back, knocked at the door of the house, and cried, 'Open the door, dear children; your mother is here and has brought something back with her for each of you.'
14	Aber der Wolf hatte seine schwarze Pfote in das Fenster gelegt, das sahen die Kinder und riefen: »wir machen nicht auf, unsere Mutter hat keinen schwarzen Fuß wie du; du bist der Wolf.«	But the wolf had put his black paw in the window, which the children saw and cried out: "We won't open it, our mother doesn't have a black foot like you; you're the wolf."	But the wolf had laid his black paws against the window, and the children saw them and cried, 'We will not open the door, our mother has not black feet like thee: thou art the wolf!'
15	Da lief der Wolf zu einem Bäcker und sprach: »ich habe mich an den Fuß gestoßen, streich mir Teig darüber.«	Then the wolf ran to a baker and said, "I have hurt my foot, spread some dough on it."	Then the wolf ran to a baker and said, 'I have hurt my feet, rub some dough over them for me.'
16	Und als ihm der Bäcker die Pfote bestrichen hatte, so lief er zum Müller und sprach: »streu mir weißes Mehl auf meine Pfote.«	And when the baker had smeared his paw, he ran to the miller and said, "Sprinkle some white flour on my paw."	And when the baker had rubbed his feet over, he ran to the miller and said, 'Strew some white meal over my feet for me.'
17	Der Müller dachte: »der Wolf will einen betrügen,« und weigerte sich, aber der Wolf sprach: »wenn du es nicht thust, so fresse ich dich.«	The miller thought, "The wolf wants to deceive someone," and refused, but the wolf said, "If you don't do it, I'll eat you."	The miller thought to himself, 'The wolf wants to deceive some one,' and refused; but the wolf said, 'If thou wilt not do it, I will devour thee.'
18	Da fürchtete sich der Müller und machte ihm die Pfote weiß.	The miller was afraid and made his paw white.	Then the miller was afraid, and made his paws white for him.
19	Ja, so sind die Menschen.	Yes, that's how people are.	Truly men are like that.

20	Nun ging der Bösewicht zum drittenmal zu der Haustür, klopfte an und sprach: »macht mir auf, Kinder, euer liebes Mütterchen ist heim gekommen und hat jedem von euch etwas aus dem Walde mitgebracht.«	Now the villain went to the front door for the third time, knocked, and said: "Open the door for me, children, your dear mother has come home and has brought each of you something from the forest."	So now the wretch went for the third time to the house-door, knocked at it and said, 'Open the door for me, children, your dear little mother has come home, and has brought every one of you something back from the forest with her.'
21	Die Geißlein riefen: »zeig uns erst deine Pfote, damit wir wissen daß du unser liebes Mütterchen bist.«	The little goats cried: "First show us your paw, so that we know that you are our dear mother."	The little kids cried, 'First show us thy paws that we may know if thou art our dear little mother.'
22	Da legte er die Pfote ins Fenster, und als sie sahen daß sie weiß war, so glaubten sie es wäre alles wahr, was er sagte, und machten die Türe auf.	Then he put his paw in the window, and when they saw that it was white, they believed that everything he said was true, and opened the door.	Then he put his paws in through the window, and when the kids saw that they were white, they believed that all he said was true, and opened the door.
23	Wer aber hereinkam, das war der Wolf.	But the one who came in was the wolf.	But who should come in but the wolf!
24	Sie erschrecken und wollten sich verstecken.	They were frightened and wanted to hide.	They were terrified and wanted to hide themselves.
25	Das eine sprang unter den Tisch, das zweite ins Bett, das dritte in den Ofen, das vierte in die Küche, das fünfte in den Schrank, das sechste unter die Waschschiüssel, das siebente in den Kasten der Wanduhr.	One jumped under the table, the second into the bed, the third into the oven, the fourth into the kitchen, the fifth into the cupboard, the sixth under the washbasin, the seventh into the case of the wall clock.	One sprang under the table, the second into the bed, the third into the stove, the fourth into the kitchen, the fifth into the cupboard, the sixth under the washing-bowl, and the seventh into the clock-case.
26	Aber der Wolf fand sie alle und machte nicht langes Federlesen: eins nach dem andern schluckte er in seinen Magen;	But the wolf found them all and didn't waste any time: he swallowed one after the other into his stomach;	But the wolf found them all, and used no great ceremony: one after another he swallowed them down into his stomach;
27	nur das jüngste in dem Uhrenkasten fand er nicht.	He only didn't find the youngest one in the watch case.	but the youngest one in the clock-case he did not find.
28	Da kam sie zu dem Jüngsten, da rief eine feine Stimme: »Liebe Mutter, ich bin im Kasten der Wanduhr.«	Then she came to the youngest, and a gentle voice called out: "Dear Mother, I am in the case of the wall clock."	At last, when she came to the youngest, a soft voice cried, 'Dear mother, I am in the clock-case.'
29	Da holte sie es heraus, und es erzählte ihr, daß der Wolf gekommen wäre und die anderen alle gefressen hätte.	Then she took it out, and it told her that the wolf had come and eaten all the others.	She took the kid out, and it told her that the wolf had come and had eaten all the others.
30	Da könnt ihr denken, wie sie über ihre armen Kinder geweint hat.	You can imagine how she cried over her poor children.	Then you may imagine how she wept over her poor children.
31	Endlich ging sie in ihrem Jammer hinaus, und das jüngste Geißlein lief mit.	Finally, in her distress, she went out, and the youngest kid ran with her.	At length in her grief she went out, and the youngest kid ran with her.
32	Als sie auf die Wiese kam, so lag da der Wolf an dem Baum und schnarchte, daß die Äste zitterten.	When she came to the meadow, the wolf was lying by the tree, snoring so loudly that the branches trembled.	When they came to the meadow, there lay the wolf by the tree and snored so loud that the branches shook.
33	Sie betrachtete ihn von allen Seiten und sah, daß in seinem angefüllten Bauch sich etwas regte und zappelte.	She looked at him from all sides and saw that something was moving and wriggling in his full belly.	She looked at him on every side and saw that something was moving and struggling in his gorged body.
34	»Ach Gott,« dachte sie, »sollten meine armen Kinder, die er zum Abendbrot hinuntergewürgt hat, noch am Leben sein?«	Oh God, she thought, "could my poor children, whom he choked down for supper, still be alive?"	"Ah, heavens," said she, "is it possible that my poor children whom he has swallowed down for his supper, can be still alive?"
35	Da mußte das Geißlein nach Haus laufen und Schere, Nadel und Zwirn holen.	Then the little goat had to run home and get scissors, a needle and thread.	Then the kid had to run home and fetch scissors, and a needle and thread.
36	Dann schnitt sie dem Ungetüm den Wanst auf, und kaum hatte sie einen Schnitt getan, so streckte schon ein Geißlein den Kopf heraus,	Then she cut open the monster's belly, and no sooner had she made one cut than a little goat stuck its head out,	And the goat cut open the monster's stomach, and hardly had she made one cut, than one little kid thrust its head out,
37	und als sie weiter schnitt, so sprangen nacheinander alle sechse heraus,	and as she continued cutting, all six jumped out one after the other,	and when she had cut farther, all six sprang out one after another,
38	und waren noch alle am Leben, und hatten nicht einmal Schaden gelitten,	and were all still alive, and had not even suffered any harm,	and were all still alive, and had suffered no injury whatever,

39	denn das Ungethüm hatte sie in der Gier ganz hinuntergeschluckt.	for the monster had swallowed her whole in its greed.	for in his greediness the monster had swallowed them down whole.
40	Das war eine Freude!	That was a joy!	What rejoicing there was!
41	Da herzten sie ihre liebe Mutter, und hüpfen wie ein Schneider, der Hochzeit hält.	Then they hugged their dear mother and hopped like a tailor at a wedding.	Then they embraced their dear mother, and jumped like a tailor at his wedding.
42	Die Alte aber sagte »jetzt geht und sucht Wackersteine, damit wollen wir dem gottlosen Tier den Bauch füllen, solange es noch im Schlafe liegt.«	But the old woman said, "Now go and find some cobblestones, with which we will fill the belly of the wicked beast while it is still asleep."	The mother, however, said, "Now go and look for some big stones, and we will fill the wicked beast's stomach with them while he is still asleep."
43	Da schleppten die sieben Geißerchen in aller Eile die Steine herbei und steckten sie ihm in den Bauch, so viel sie hineinbringen konnten.	Then the seven little goats quickly brought the stones and put them into his stomach, as many as they could get in.	Then the seven kids dragged the stones thither with all speed, and put as many of them into his stomach as they could get in;
44	Dann nähte ihn die Alte in aller Geschwindigkeit wieder zu, daß er nichts merkte und sich nicht einmal regte.	Then the old woman sewed him up again so quickly that he didn't notice anything and didn't even move.	and the mother sewed him up again in the greatest haste, so that he was not aware of anything and never once stirred.
45	Als der Wolf endlich ausgeschlafen hatte, machte er sich auf die Beine,	When the wolf had finally slept enough, he got up,	When the wolf at length had had his sleep out, he got on his legs,
46	und weil ihm die Steine im Magen so großen Durst erregten,	and because the stones in his stomach made him so thirsty,	and because the stones in his stomach made him very thirsty,
47	so wollte er zu einem Brunnen gehen und trinken.	So he wanted to go to a well and drink.	he wanted to go to a well to drink.
48	Als er aber anfang zu gehen und sich hin und her zu bewegen,	But when he began to walk and move back and forth,	But when he began to walk and to move about,
49	da stießen die Steine in seinem Bauch aneinander und rasselten.	the stones in his stomach bumped into each other and rattled.	the stones in his stomach knocked together and rattled.
50	Da rief er »was rumpelt und pumpelt in meinem Bauch herum?«	Then he cried out, "What's rumbling and pumping around in my stomach?"	Then he cried, 'What rumbles and tumbles against my poor bones?'
51	Meinte, es wären die sechs Geißlein, die sich darin herumtrieben.	Thought it was the six little goats that were wandering around in there.	He thought it was the six little kids dancing inside his belly.
52	Wie er aber zu dem Brunnen kam und sich über das Wasser neigte,	But when he came to the well and bent over the water,	But when he came to the well and stooped over the water to drink,
53	so zogen ihn die schweren Steine hinein,	so the heavy stones pulled him in,	the heavy stones made him fall in,
54	und er mußte jämmerlich ersaufen.	and he had to drown miserably.	and he had to drown miserably.
55	Als die sieben Geißlein das sahen, da kamen sie herbeigelaufen, riefen laut »der Wolf ist tot! der Wolf ist tot!« und tanzten mit ihrer Mutter vor Freude um den Brunnen herum.	When the seven little goats saw this, they came running, shouting loudly, "The wolf is dead! The wolf is dead!" and danced around the well with their mother for joy.	When the seven kids saw that, they came running to the spot and cried aloud, 'The wolf is dead! The wolf is dead!' and danced for joy round about the well with their mother.
